What is a Saluki?

Salukis are one of the first dog breeds dating all the way back to 3600 B.C. Known for their speed, and endurance. Salukis are considered the fastest dog breed.

SIU adapted the Saluki dog as its mascot because Southern Illinois is known as little Egypt and Egypt is the birthplace for Saluki dogs.

SIU also adapted the word Dawgtag (a reference to the tag dogs wear around their collar) to describe its Students ID. So, the next time you hear someone asking for your Dawgtag, they are asking for your SIU ID.

Arriving in Carbondale

The two most common routes to come to Carbondale involve either travel through Chicago or St. Louis.

1. O'Hare International airport in Chicago, take the Amtrak train straight to Carbondale. Relevant information can be found at <https://www.amtrak.com/stations/chi>
2. St. Louis Lambert International airport, take the St. Louis Shuttle.
3. Booking can be arranged here: <https://stlshuttleservice.com/product/marion-carbondale-il/>

Helpful traveling app: Rome2Rio. Download prior to arriving and use while traveling. Use as a navigational tool. You will see options for your destination. Uses an arrow for the direction you should be following. Do not make in app purchases, it is expensive.

Download free transloc app for the Saluki Express/Rides Mass Transit. Use public bus transportation in Carbondale for a very small fee. Use this until you claim your SIU ID & account.

Please contact our University Housing for housing options: <https://housing.siu.edu/>
If you need housing options, please contact our office prior to arriving.

Our website has helpful information and resources to assist you before arriving. Visit our website: <https://cie.siu.edu/> to know more about SIU.

A Professor or Research Scholar can be sponsored for a maximum period of 5 years. A Short-Term Scholar can be sponsored for a maximum period of 6 months.

PROGRAM COMPLETION

J-1 scholars and their J-2 dependents must depart the US within 30 days of their form DS-2019 expiration date or program completion date, whichever is earlier. Scholars completing their program at SIU and leaving the US earlier than the expiration dates on their Forms DS-2019 should have their department administrators notify CIE.

TWO YEAR HOME RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT 212(e)

J-1 exchange visitors who are subject to the 212(e) rule must return to their home country and reside in that country for two years before they are eligible for H, L, or Permanent Resident status. If subject to 212(e), exchange visitors are not permitted to change their nonimmigrant status within the US from J to any other nonimmigrant category (except for A Diplomat and G International Organization statuses).

J-1 exchange visitors may be subject to this requirement if:

- The exchange visitor's skill category appears on the applicable country's "list of skills" that are in critical demand. (see link below for Department of State Skills list)
- <https://travel.state.gov/content/visas/en/study-exchange/exchange/exchange-visitor-skills-list.html>
- The exchange visitor's program is supported financially by a government or international agency.
- US Embassy/Consulate General visa officers determine if an exchange visitor is subject to 212(e).

A waiver of rule 212(e) is possible by filing an I-612 with the immigration service for the following:

- Statement of no objection from the home country
- Interest of a US government agency
- Exceptional hardship to a US citizen or permanent resident spouse or child of the exchange visitor
- Persecution of the exchange visitor because of race, religion, or political opinion

12 AND 24 MONTH BAR ON REPEAT PARTICIPATION DEFINITIONS

In order to prevent the abuse of the J-1 Exchange Visitor Program, the DoS has "Bars on Participation" in place. The following bars should be taken into consideration when inviting an EV, as they will affect any anticipated future participation in the J-1 EV program.

12 month bar: An individual cannot have participated in a J program (as J-1 or J-2) for any of the 12 month period immediately preceding the new start date being requested, unless s/he is transferring to SIU's program, prior physical presence in J status in the US was less than 6 months (except as a Research Scholar/Professor), or was a Short-Term Scholar.

24 month bar: An individual cannot have participated in a J program as a J-1 or J-2 Research Scholar or Professor within the 24 months preceding the start date of the new J-1 Research Scholar or Professor Program. Individual will be ineligible to participate as a J-1 Research Scholar or Professor for two years following the end date of the program unless s/he is transferring to SIU's program, or was a Short-Term Scholar.

TRAVELING ABROAD AND RE-ENTRY TO THE US

A DS-2019 travel signature by CIE is required of J-1 exchange visitors and their dependents who wish to travel outside the US during the exchange period. Proof of current health insurance is required before a travel signature can be obtained. If you are traveling and returning to the US, your passport must be valid at least 6 months into the future. If the J visa stamp in the passport is expired, the exchange visitor MUST obtain a new visa stamp at the home embassy/consulate prior to returning to the US.

To travel you are required to carry:

- Valid Form DS-2019 signed once every 6 months.
- Valid J visa stamp in the passport (except for Canadian citizens)
- Valid passport at least 6 months into the future

IDs and Employment

Social Security Card

You are only eligible to obtain a Social Security number if you are employed in the US. If you have received a pay statement from SIU, bring a copy to the Center for International Education office and we can prepare a form that you will take to the Social Security Administration, along with your DS-2019, passport, and I-94 information. The local Social Security Administration Office is located at:

250 W Cherry Street
Carbondale, IL
(618) 457-3666

OBTAINING AN SIU ID (DAWG TAG) NUMBER

This process is done through your academic department, not the Center for International Education. All individuals on the campus using campus resources must have an SIU ID (Dawg tag). Your personal sponsor is responsible for helping you obtain an SIU ID. To begin, he or she should submit a Search Waiver Request through his or her department to Human Resources. This Waiver Request should indicate you will hold a zero time zero salary position, called a zero percent contract (0%). After this request has been made, your sponsor will need to enter your information on a Notice of Appointment form again including you hold a zero time and zero salary position. Once Human Resources receives this form it will trigger the eligibility for you to obtain an SIU ID. Please talk with your sponsor if you have not received an ID (Dawgtag) yet.

SIU EMPLOYMENT

If you are being paid by SIU as part of your J-1 program, you are entitled to the following Wilberforce Pamphlet on the Rights and Protections for Temporary Workers.

<http://travel.state.gov/content/visas/english/general/rights-protections-temporary-workers.html>

ENROLLING IN SIU ACADEMIC COURSES

J-1 exchange visitors may enroll in SIU classes as long as the course work is INCIDENTAL to the primary exchange objective. However, J-1 exchange visitors may NOT be enrolled full-time, or in a degree-seeking course.

Mandatory Insurance Information

J-1 exchange visitors (and their J-2 family members) are required, as a condition of their visa status, to carry health insurance which meets the minimum requirements. As insurance rates may vary based upon the company you choose, as well as the health-status, age, etc. of the insured, it is recommended that you get estimates from at least 3 different agencies to make certain that you are making the best choice for your personal situation.

It is highly recommended that you purchase from a local company, as they will be able to explain the insurance and help you in the event that you need it.

You must be covered by this insurance by the day your program starts (start date listed on your DS-2019). Therefore, insurance MUST be purchased before you arrive, or you should arrive before your start date in order to purchase it.

You and your dependents must maintain health insurance coverage for the entire duration of your stay in the US. If your stay is extended beyond the initial time period, you will be responsible for renewing and extending your health insurance coverage. Please understand that failure to comply with this mandated health insurance requirement will result in the termination of your participation in this J-1 Exchange Visitor program.

CIE must have a current and updated copy of your health insurance policy at all times. You can visit the Department of State website for more detailed information on the health insurance requirement. <https://j1visa.state.gov/sponsors/how-to-administer-a-program/> (click on "Insurance" dropdown)

In the U.S. certain kinds of elective medical care, such as eyeglasses or dentistry, are not ordinarily covered by insurance and can be quite costly. If at all possible, you should plan on taking care of these needs before leaving for your visit to the U.S.

If you do not purchase the insurance from one of the above suggested sources, it is your responsibility to prove that the insurance you did purchase meets the minimum standards (IN ENGLISH).

Minimum coverage must provide the following:

1. Medical benefits of at least of $100,000 per accident/illness
2. A deductible not to exceed $500 per accident/illness
3. Expenses associated with the medical evacuation to the home country ($50,000)
4. Repatriation of remains ($25,000)
5. Any policy must be underwritten by an insurance corporation having an A.M. Best rating of "A-" or above, and Insurance Solvency International, Ltd. (ISI) rating of "A-" or above, a Standard & Poor's Claims-paying Ability rating of "A" or above, a Weiss Research, Inc. rating of "B+" or above, OR backed by the full faith & credit of the government of the exchange visitor's home country.
6. An insurance policy secured to fulfill these requirements:
 - a. May require a waiting period for pre-existing conditions which is reasonable as determined by current industry standards;
 - b. May include a provision for co-insurance under the terms of which the exchange visitor may be required to pay up to 25% of the covered benefits per accident or illness; and
 - c. Shall not unreasonably exclude coverage for perils inherent to the activities of the exchange program in which the exchange visitor participates.

Depending on the specifics of your agreement with your SIU departmental sponsor, you may or may not be eligible for participation in SIU's employee health insurance plan. You should check with your academic departmental sponsor to determine if you will be eligible for SIU's employee health insurance. Please note that the SIU Employee insurance plan does NOT cover items 3 & 4 (medical evacuation and repatriation). If you have SIU health insurance, you must purchase a separate policy that covers these 2 items. You may purchase this type of insurance from a variety of companies on-line.

SAFETY

SAFETY REMINDERS

Keep your doors locked in your room or apartment, and your car at all times.

Do NOT carry large amounts of cash with you. Instead, use debit cards, credit cards, or checks.

In most cases, it is best NOT to do business over the telephone with someone who has randomly called you. If YOU initiate the call to your bank or credit card company, you are generally safe. Beware of door-to-door salespeople of any kind. NEVER give your private identification information or personal contact information to someone who calls you on the phone or solicits you over the internet or shows up at your home.

You do NOT have to give you social security number to get a credit card, order telephone service, cable television, or internet service. Use your passport as identification instead.

Tornado Siren

The tornado siren warning signal TEST is on the first Tuesday of every month at 10:00am. If this siren sounds at any other time, move away from windows to a basement or an interior hallway or room (such as a bathroom). Stay away from windows and heavy objects that could potentially fall on you and wait until the danger has passed. We also suggest having a battery powered radio and flashlights available in your 'safe room' location. Spring and summer time (March-August) in Carbondale have the potential for large rain/thunder storms. Always be mindful of the weather—it is helpful to listen to local radio stations and local television weather reports to keep informed of any upcoming weather-related events.

Scam Warning:

Be aware of scam calls, texts, and emails; do not provide any sensitive information over phone or email to people you do not know or phone number you do not know. And if offered an offer that seems too good to be true, it is likely not true. Ask for the person's name and phone number to call back. If you're sent a text or email about receiving a package or tracking information which you did not recently sign up for, it is phishing. Always check the email address and text sender's ID. If it looks suspicious or need help, please contact me. Do not give any information over the phone to someone you did not call.

TRANSPORTATION

BUYING A CAR

When you buy a car in the US, the sale is final. You cannot get your money back if you change your mind on the purchase. Therefore, it is important to have the car checked by an independent and reliable mechanic before agreeing to purchase the vehicle. This can usually be done for a fee between $20-$70. An individual or used car dealer should be willing to allow you to take the car to a repair shop to have the car checked prior to purchase. If not, do NOT buy the car as there is most likely something wrong with it. See the list of Auto Repair Shops in the Shopping Guide in this packet. You can also check an automobile's ownership and accident history for a fee at www.carfax.com. You can also check its value through the Kelly Blue Book www.kbb.com. The value may vary depending on the circumstances and should only be used as a guide.

- You MUST purchase liability insurance when you buy a car. This is the law! Make sure that you are covered by insurance before you drive a car off the sales lot. The insurance will pay for health care of other people involved in an accident, as well as damage caused by your car.
- Do NOT allow uninsured drivers to use your car. In case of an accident, YOU will be held responsible.
- Car accidents in private parking lots (such as grocery stores, etc) are not the same as those on the street. The insurance companies of both parties involved in the accident are expected to pay 50% of the costs involved.
- It is illegal to talk on a telephone or text while driving when you are driving in the state of Illinois.
- If you do become involved in a car accident, ALWAYS do the following:
- Call the police non-emergency number (Carbondale 457-3200, SIU 453-3771) to report the accident
- Check the damages of both cars and ask if the other driver has insurance
- Get the name, address, phone number, email, and insurance company of the other driver
- In more serious cases, seek emergency medical advice if needed
- Report the accident to your insurance company immediately

ILLINOIS LAWS WHEN OPERATING AN AUTOMOBILE

In the state of Illinois, it is illegal to drive while talking (or texting) on a cell phone (unless you are using a hand's free device).

"Illinois law requires all drivers and passengers (front and back seat) age 8 and old to wear safety belts even if the vehicle is equipped with air bags. Passengers under age 8 must be secured in an appropriate child restraint system as covered by the Child Passenger Protection Act... When riding in a truck with only a front seat equipped with safety belts, a child under age 8 must be secured in an appropriate child restraint system" (Rules of the Road). The following page provides the contact information for the Department of Motor Vehicle.

Driving in Illinois

Obtaining an Illinois Driver's License

Things to know:

- Driving laws vary based on each state and can change from year-to-year.
- You cannot drive solely with an IDP after you are in the state of Illinois.
- It is recommended you bring both your driver's license from your home country and an International Driving Permit (IDP) if you plan to drive a car while studying in the U.S.
- To apply for an IDP, contact the authorities of the country that issued your driver's license, or its motoring association, to inquire how to obtain an IDP.
- The valid driver's license from your home country will allow you to drive in Illinois without an Illinois Driver's License.

You may drive in Illinois without a valid Illinois driver's license under the following circumstances (found on page 5 of the Rules of the Road Booklet):

- If you are visiting or driving through Illinois, you must have a valid driver's license from your home state or country.
- If you are an out-of-state student attending an Illinois college/university, you and your spouse and children may drive with a valid license from your home state or country.

It is recommended you keep a copy of the Rules of the Road Booklet in your car when driving in the U.S. on an IDP and/or home country driver's license.

To be eligible for a driver's license, a foreign national must:

- Be authorized to be in the country for at least one year and have at least six months remaining on an authorized stay (shown on DS-2019).
- Present proper identification documents.

Understanding “Some” American Ways of Living

Value system:

In the United States, many U.S. Americans believe that standing up for what one believes in an honest and appropriate manner is extremely important. This is referred to as assertiveness. Most Americans respect ideas that are different from their own and will expect you to express your own opinions. You are also expected to be clear in what you express; vague, emotional, or subjective language does not effectively convey ideas.

The population of the United States is extremely diverse in ethnicity, religion, and political values. Due to that diversity, some individuals may argue aggressively on their own personal beliefs and values. Sensitivity is required when it relates to discussions of personal finance, religion, and politics. Beware of people trying to convert you to their beliefs.

Service to others through volunteerism with community groups or religious organizations is quite common and is respected in the U.S. In fact, most of the individuals who work in the programs we offer to international students through the International Friends Club (IFC) are volunteers.

U.S. Americans often speak of as well as value team work but also individual freedom. They expect others to be independent and responsible for their own success or failure; but when working with a group or on a team, each individual is expected to contribute to the discussion or group by providing his/her own opinions or ideas.

Underage drinking (the legal drinking age in Illinois is 21), public drunkenness, driving while intoxicated, sexual assault, and battery (violent behavior) are considered serious offenses and are punishable by law, and are deportable offenses.

Relational & Social Manners:

Most Americans are friendly and hospitable, but this does not imply a lasting relationship or a deep friendship. Close friendships develop over time through social interaction.

Although cultural norms may vary with the region in the United States as well as the culture of the individual, many Americans greet others with a smile and/or handshake. If you do not to shake hands for religious or cultural reasons, and someone extends his or her hand to you, simply smile and state that for cultural reasons, you do not shake hands.

In the United States, eye contact is an important show of respect to the one speaking. Speak up and ask questions if you do not understand something or need assistance rather than waiting and expecting that someone will approach you to ask if you need help.

Generally, you are expected to tip the waiter or waitress at a restaurant (15 percent of the bill), taxi driver (amount depends on part of the country and the fare amount), hotel maid service ($2 to $3 per night), and if someone carries your luggage for you ($1 to $2 per bag at a hotel, airport, etc.). Tips are to show your appreciation for a service. If in doubt, check the current rates on the internet. Rates are higher in cities than in smaller towns.

Most stores will allow you to return items and get your money back if you have not used the item, you did not damage the item, and you return it to the store where you purchased it with the original receipt within 30 days. Please note that store policies differ regarding return policies.

Required social behaviors in the United States include: being on time; keeping appointments; treating females with the same respect as males; being courteous to clerks, taxi drivers, restaurant and office workers; respecting another's personal space by keeping at least at arm's length when speaking to someone unless standing side by side.

Traditionally, Americans line up—regardless of gender, age or status—on a “first come first served” basis for individual service in offices, amusement parks, stores, etc. Cutting through lines to get ahead is considered rude.

Smoking is considered offensive for health reasons by many and is prohibited by Illinois state law in public buildings or vehicles. People who wish to smoke can do so outside as long as they stay at least 15 feet away from the doorway or in specially designated “smoking areas” or “smoking rooms” when they are available. As of July 1, 2015, smoking is prohibited on all Southern Illinois University Carbondale campus. This prohibition does not apply to any instance in which an individual is traveling through or parked in a vehicle that is not owned by a State-supported institution of higher education. For more information please visit the following site: <http://policies.siu.edu/employees-handbook/chapter9/cleanair.php>

Personal cleanliness is important to most people in the United States. Most shower daily, wash their clothing regularly, and use deodorant products.

Sometimes Americans will give a quick pat on the shoulder or the back as a form of encouragement. This can sometimes be surprising (or “shocking” as one student phrased it) to a new international student who has not been forewarned of this practice.

Roommates should try to respect one another's personal privacy and private property, sharing only by prior agreement. Mutual consideration regarding noise level, smoking, sharing facilities, etc. is important, and housekeeping duties should be shared equally. If difficulties arise, be direct, but tactful, in expressing one's thoughts and feelings.
